Interpreting

At the Family HealthCare Center, we want to be sure that all patient concerns are made clear to their provider regardless of any language barriers that may exist. Our staff also wants the patient to fully understand their medical care and any plan of action needed to address their concerns.

In addition to the certified medical interpreters on staff, the health center also provides virtual interpreters for uncommon languages and ASL.

If you are coming in for an appointment and would like an interpreter, please let our receptionist know when making your appointment or when you arrive on the day of your appointment.

The need to establish a Community Healthcare Center at SSTAR became evident in the mid-1990s. People within the community with diagnoses of substance abuse, mental health issues and HIV/AIDS were experiencing difficulty accessing primary health care.

SSTAR recognized the need and expanded services to the community by creating a center for individuals and families in need of outpatient primary medical care. The Family HealthCare Center at SSTAR may have started off small but we now provide primary healthcare across the full spectrum of the community.

From those humble beginnings, our healthcare center has grown to include ten primary care providers and several specialist, including a pediatrician, an endocrinologist, a cardiologist, and infectious disease doctors. Our medical director, Dr. George Maxted, has a certificate of Added Qualifications in Geriatrics and is particularly skilled working with patients as they age. Our primary care providers see patients from birth to advanced age, helping their patients address issues that affect their physical and mental health.

We welcome you to join our community partnership as a patient so our dedicated providers and staff can help you lead a happy and healthy life.
